

CIETRZEWSKO

During the summer holidays I visited the Palace in Koszęcin in a beautiful park with old trees. It is the headquarters of "Śląsk" band. Various events are often organized there. In the summer I was in Cietrzewisko. It is a festival of foresters and woodcutters. They organize interesting shows and competitions. There are also competitions of lumberjacks and competitions of hunting whistleblowers. You can also buy traditional Silesian dishes. There is also a hunting bird show. Also there is a beautiful fountain and it is in the shape of a piano. At the end, there is always the band "Śląsk" singing old Silesian songs. I also have a friend in Koszęcin. His name is Rex and he is a dog. Its owner works in the technical service of the "Śląsk" band. Rex comes to work with his master. While waiting for his owner, he plays with the children. I really like Silesian culture. I also like coming to Koszęcin very much.
